

European Professionals Series

Michaelmas Term 2014

The European Centre at the Department of Politics and International Studies is delighted to announce a new regular event: the European Professionals Series. This series is meant to facilitate interaction and debate between European Affairs academic and professional circles based in and outside Cambridge. There will be five talks during Michaelmas, given by well-established professionals and officials working on European Affairs.

Kyle Galler, Principal economic policy analyst and European semester officer, European Commission Representation in the United Kingdom

Topic: Why does the European Union interfere in our economies?

Date and time: 10 October 2014, 3-4.30 pm

Location: Alison Richard Building (ARB), 7 West Road, 1st floor, room 138

Julia Harrison, Senior Managing Director, FTI Strategic Communications, Brussels

Topic: Brussels revisited: Public affairs in a radically changing political reality

Date and time: 7 November, 3-4.30 pm

Location: Alison Richard Building (ARB), 7 West Road, 1st floor, room 138

Followed by drinks in the ARB, 1st floor Green Sofas Area

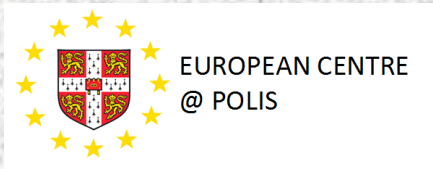

Hans-Hartwig Blomeier, Head of the Konrad Adenauer Stiftung office in Great Britain

Topic: The role of political foundations in European cooperation and integration

Date and time: 21 November, 3-4.30 pm

Location: Alison Richard Building (ARB), 7 West Road, 1st floor, room 138

Followed by drinks in the ARB, 1st floor Green Sofas Area

John Peet, Europe Editor, The Economist

Topic: Reporting and writing on EU Affairs in times of crisis

Date and time: 4 December, 5-6.30 pm

Location: Alison Richard Building (ARB), 7 West Road, 1st floor, room 138

Anthony Teasdale, Director General of the European Parliamentary Research Service (EPRS)

Topic: The Politics of the Juncker Commission

Date and time: 12 December, 4-5.30 pm

Location: Alison Richard Building (ARB), 7 West Road, 1st floor, room 138

Entry to the events is free and does not require booking. For further information and any queries please email: amb225@cam.ac.uk.

