

VHI Reading Group — Lent Term 2015

RELIGION, POLITICS AND MIGRATION

This reading group explores the inter-linkages between religion, politics and migration while looking at selected themes such as transnational ties, gender, identity, inter-faith dialogue and Islam in relation to immigrants' religion.

The group is open to all and it is especially designed for researchers and PhD students in social sciences and humanities. The reading list will include works of Levitt Peggy, Helen R. Ebaugh, Janet S. Chafetz, Jocelyne Cesari, Daniel G. Groody and Gökçe Yurdakul, who study immigrants' religions and immigrant religious communities.

FIRST MEETING on Tuesday 20 January (15:00-16:30)
Teaching Room 2, St Edmund's College.

The following meetings are fortnightly on Tuesday 3 and 17 February and 3 March.

Registration is not necessary but advisable.

For further details and the reading list please contact the convenors:

Dr Elif Cetin ec409@cam.ac.uk

Vlado Kmec vk287@cam.ac.uk

or visit: www.vhi.st-edmunds.cam.ac.uk/events/reading-group