

CATHOLIC-JEWISH RELATIONS TODAY: from Nostra Aetate (1965) to The Gifts and Calling of God are Irrevocable (2015)

The publication of Nostra Aetate during the course of the Second Vatican Council revolutionised the relations of the Catholic Church with other religions and especially Judaism, strongly urging interfaith reflection, collaboration, and action. On its fiftieth anniversary the Vatican's Commission for Religious Relations with the Jews has published a new document broadening and deepening the theological reflections of the earlier document on the relations between Judaism and Christianity. The Von Hügel and Woolf Institutes of St Edmund's College have convened a panel of distinguished Catholic and Jewish scholars to discuss and assess this significant new document and its contributions to Catholic-Jewish relations today.
